July 2017

The Meaning of Money Within a week of having my last drink, I found my way into a meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous. Because of chronic alcoholism, I had lost my teeth, my ability to read, and control over most of my bodily functions. I couldn't stop shaking. I was at the end of the road; I had nowhere else to go, and despite my best efforts, I couldn't die. I was welcomed at the doors of AA by a man who several years earlier had asked me to leave a rather shoddy bar be cause of my inappropriate behavior. I figured if it was all right with him, then I would probably be allowed to stay. I don't remember much about that meeting except that I was given hope that maybe I didn't have to drink again. No one told me to believe in God or tried to sell me anything. I was encouraged to just show up and use what I wanted. It had been a long time since I'd felt welcome anywhere; here were people a woman who was recently released who was sponsored by a who understood where I had been and where I was now. I did what was suggested, got a sponsor, and started on the road of recovery. My life changed. During the initial meeting with my first sponsor, he asked if I had a Big Book. When I said no, he bought me one. I told him I'd pay him back, and he said he expected nothing less. The day I received my first paycheck from a not-so-good job, I did pay him. I also started contributing to the Seventh Tradition basket. I really wanted to be part of this thing. That first night, he told me I couldn't keep what I didn't give away and that I couldn't give away what I didn't have. He started me on my journey through AA's Twelve Steps of recovery and got me into group service as the greeter for the eight o'clock anxiously waited until the package came. It was so emotional meetings. Shortly afterward, I went to my first steering reading the letter from New York at the meeting. I was so proud committee meeting and was astonished to learn that our treasurer had lost a great deal of the group's money. He had bought a new car and left the group. We were in severe financial trouble, but no one felt it was appropriate to seek legal recourse. The group members were concerned he might drink. They realized that they needed to be more careful when electing trusted servants. They believed that they had let the man down by putting too much pressure on his short-term sobriety and had let the group down by not having the foresight to see potential problems. I thought they were just nice people; I had no idea that what I was witnessing was a greater understanding of a Higher Power at the group level. I came up with the incredibly wonderful idea of seeking help from a charitable organization to get us through this dilemma. That's when my sponsor began teaching me about our Twelve Traditions. Once again, my life changed. While studying the Seventh Tradition, I learned that self-support is more than money in the basket. It's the participation by individual members within the group as well as group participation by elected members in local service work and in AA as a whole. I found out that he who pays the bills calls the shots. At first, the most important thing to me was that our group was autonomous and made all our own decisions. As my mind cleared, I realized that with freedom there is responsibility, and that if the group didn't pay it's way, no one would. The Seventh Tradition

I have been taking meetings into prison for about 13 years now. It keeps me close to the middle of AA, where we are truly needed. Six years ago, I was given the opportunity to help take a weekly meeting into the minimum general population at a women's prison. It was an open discussion meeting lead by the women. We brought in Big Books and Grapevines, and when things got off track, one of us would share and try to bring things back to AA. Occasionally we had a gal who would get serious about working the Steps and we might get through the first five with her in anticipation of her release date. Then a few years ago, the meeting started to change. One gal in particular started talking about her experience with the Steps. And then she started sponsoring other women. Apparently she had been sponsored by woman on the outside. An amazing chain of sponsorship began to grow. One evening, one of the women spoke about waking up and hearing voices talking quietly in her dorm. She sat up and looked around to see where they were coming from and discovered a couple of women from the meeting huddled up at a table with their books open, talking about the Steps. I got goose bumps. That's when I realized that our role as volunteers had changed. What they most needed from us was the tools of AA so that they could work the program and have access to the bigger AA community. The women even held business meetings and registered the group with the General Service Office. They of what these women were doing. We volunteers had been bringing a meeting in to them for an hour every week; now they brought Alcoholics Anonymous into the facility 24 hours a day, seven days a week! And only inside members of AA can do that. A couple of years have passed now. Several women in that sponsorship chain are now living on the outside and are sober. I know where each one is today. That's the miracle of our program. It's been amazing to watch what these women have accomplished with each other through AA. Who would want to miss an experience like this? Annalee P. Portland, Ore.

| became very important to me; it meant that I could belong. I could be a small part of a great whole, something I had never been before. It also meant that I could earn a living and start making financial amends in order to pay back the many debts that had built up through the years. It meant that I had a chance to be free one day. I became involved in my home group and did service with our local Hospitals and Institutions Committee. I went to places I'd never dreamed of going to help carry the message of hope to the hopeless. The history of Alcoholics Anonymous became very important to me, as did serving this sober group of drunks that had given me life. I started to put Alcoholics Anonymous in front of my own wants and needs. In addition to giving much of my time, as I was able to secure better jobs I began to put more money in the basket at meetings. Sometimes, I was rather showy in my contribution. However, maturing through service and living within the principles embodied within the last three Steps, I realized that if the Seventh Tradition were just about money, the haves could, and certainly would, support the have-nots. Then we would likely become a society wracked with perilous wealth and power, and the voice of Alcoholics Anonymous would not be heard through abroad base of groups, and the group had to be supported through a broad base of groups, and the group had to be supported through a broad base of individual members. Therefore, I should give my fair share but not more. I learned that I would serve best as an example of leadership, not as someone filled with the false pride that comes with carrying the group, either financially or through self-appointed positions of importance. I came to realize this was a Fellowship made up of the dregs of society who have found freedom and happiness in a power greater than themselves through the Twelve Steps of Alcoholics Anonymous, the groups of newly sober men and women came up with all kinds of ideas to bring money into the Fellowship. Most ideas involved rely | have to make do with our own efforts. As we know, shortlyafterward the Big Book of Alcoholics Anonymous waspublished, and our life as a Fellowship changed. Whenmembers of the media saw that we ex-problem drinkers weremaking self-support part of our foundation of recovery, theybecome some of our most valued friends. Throughout thoseearly years and after the inception of the General ServiceConference, discussions of the wise use of funds havecontinued. These talks have offered us some of our greatestopportunities for spiritual growth. Sales of literature havealways been key in paying for needed services. Occasionally itappeared that group contributions would support all ourservices except for the cost of publishing. There have beentimes when we have gone to great lengths to accomplish thatgoal, but the concept has thus far stayed out of our reach.Maybe it should remain that way since literature pricing canbe the throttle that keeps us on an even keel while we attemptto maintain a balanced operation of the Reserve Fund. Weneed to encourage groups to continually contribute to ourvarious service entities, not only to ensure that those serviceswill be adequate, but also to afford the freedom of each groupthe benefits of our Second Legacy. In November 1957, Billwrote in the Grapevine that "our spiritual way of life is safefor future generations if, as a society, we resist the temptationto receive money from the outside world. But this leaves uswith a responsibility—one that every member ought tounderstand. We cannot skimp when the treasurer of our grouppasses the hat. Our groups, our areas, and AlcoholicsAnonymous as a whole will not function unless our servicesare sufficient and their bills are paid." With this commentary,Bill makes it clear that the Seventh Tradition is money in thebasket, but it's also participation at the group and area servicelevels. Self-support is the very essence of AlcoholicsAnonymous. As the result of paying our own bills, theFellowship will be here for all |
| possible. It took time and wisdom for Alcoholics Anonymousmembers to see that the Fellowship must be self-supporting or theentire movement could be lost forever. As AA grew in numbersand maturity, it became apparent that what we had was truly a giftfrom God. One of the surest ways to maintain the existence of ourmarvelous Fellowship was to ensure that it remainself-supporting and refuse outside gifts, no matter howcompelling the need or how loving the offer. In 1937, duringdiscussions concerning possible financial support from theRockefeller Foundation, Albert Scott, an early friend ofAlcoholics Anonymous, asked, "Shouldn't we be most careful notto do anything, which might lead to a professional or propertiedclass within your ranks?" This profound statement is one of thecornerstones that has kept our Fellowship in the unique positionof actually practicing corporate poverty, out of harm's way. Whenall was said and done, the Rockefeller Foundation had helped in avery minor financial way, but its spiritual $(next column \rightarrow \uparrow)$   | SPEAKERSJanine G, Tpa, FI   TAMPA BAY FALL ROUNDUPAction is The Key WordFriday, Sept 1, 2017 to Monday, Sept 4, 2017FRIDAY 1PM REGISTRATION OPENS / 3PM SPEAKERRegister online at:Butch M, Barrie, ONJunita U, (AFG)Santa Fe, New Mexico   AAAFGAI-Ateen MeetingsAA Movies All WeekendFRIDAY 1PM REGISTRATION OPENS / 3PM SPEAKERRegister online at:Butch M, Barrie, ONJunita U, (AFG)Santa Fe, New Mexico   AAAFGAI-Ateen MeetingsAA Movies All WeekendFriday     Sheldon F, Las Vega, NVJune G, Los Angeles, CaTom U, Santa Fe, New Mexico   SHERATON TAMPA EAST HOTEL10221 Princess Palm Ave. Tampa, FL 33610Traditional King/Double SIDIS (12 guests) SITIS [24 guests)   SHERATON TAMPA EAST HOTEL10221 Princess Palm Ave. Tampa, FL 33610Traditional King/Youthe SiDIS (12 guests) SITIS [24 guests)  |

arry B. opened the meeting with a moment of silence followed by the Serenity Prayer and then asked everyone to please turn down their cell phones. Secretary Report: Bill presented the May minutes. There were no questions. A motion to accept was made, seconded and approved. Office Managers Report: Cindy presented the Office Managers report for May. There were no questions. Report was seconded and approved. Treasurer Report: Sue presented the May Treasurers Report. We were $2,334.59 in the red for the month, and we were $506.36 in the red for this year. A motion to accept was made, seconded and approved. Bill had a question asking if anyone had ever done a balance comparison month by month and year by year to see if this is a common occurrence. It was noted that yes this is. Some months are good, some bad, most of time we balance out. Discussion followed. Old Business: Discussion centered around future sites to hold our events at. Cindy had talked to Sue Scott, the administrator at Holy Innocents Episcopal Church at 604 N Valrico Rd, Valrico, FL 33594. She was very helpful and informative. She said the fellowship hall can accommodate up to 250 people. They request a love offering around $200. That entitles us to the fellowship hall, kitchen, and bathrooms. If they have a church function the following day and have to call in a cleaning crew, we would be charged an additional $125. There's no charge for insurance. we would need to be out by 9:30. It's about 20 miles (35 minutes) from Central Office, but I still think it's a viable possibility for the Anniversary Dinner and/or the Founder's Day dinner for 2018. The Promises meeting has had several dinners there, and it is nice and comfortable. Parking is not an issue. Tim also noted that others were also looking into other sites, so we should wait and see what they have before we vote on one site, for now. We have plenty of time. Lots of chit-chat followed. New Business: Bill J. had won a First Edition Big Book at one of our events and was now offering it to use as a Raffle for our Anniversary Dinner in February 2018. Thank You Bill. Tim will start making up raffle tickets soon and put it on display for raffling in the next few months. Lots of thanks went out to all who helped with Founders Day. Council Meeting: Larry B. opened the meeting with a moment of silence followed by the Serenity Prayer and then asked everyone to please turn down their cell phones. New Council Members were: Karla B. from the Step Sisters in Sobriety, Alexa B. from Sobrietea Women's Group, Ward H. from It's in the Book Group & Bruce m. from Primary Purpose Group. Office Managers Report: Kara read the Office Managers report for May. There were no questions. Report was seconded and approved. Renee asked what were the purchases made that month? Recovery Accents & World Services.

Secretary Report: The May Council minutes were read by Diane. There were no questions. A motion to accept was made, seconded and approved. Treasurer Report: Sue presented the May Treasurers Report. We were $2,334.59 in the red for the month, and we were $506.36 in the red for this year. Some were shocked at the deficit. What happened? Contributions were down also literature sales were doubled. Harold went on to explain that although we bought a lot of literature, we won't see an upside to it until it gets sold. Ward noted that everyone should check the contributions page in the newsletter and see what their group is contributing to Central Office. A motion to accept was made, seconded and approved. Old Business: Discussion centered around the Founders Day event. Mary thought it was great, good turn out, cool and comfortable. Steve noted that he liked it because it ran tighter and on time and was a home run. Tim noted that everything went off without a hitch and we were cleaned up and out of there well before 5:00. The event was a total success with an estimated count of 180 people in attendance. The panel was great. The 7th Tradition basket netted us $195.00 and the raffle brought in $184.00. After paying out all expenses we spent about $368.58 for a really nice Founders Day party. Larry asked if anyone had checked for any new venues to hold our upcoming events. Ward noted that we had used Palma Ceia in the past.

SELF-SUPPORT-June 2017

☺ Today in June of 2017 we have 225 Groups with 559 meetings a week. Contributions in June totaled $ 6,458.42. That accounts for what 42 Groups or Individuals out of 225 Groups in our area have contributed in June. This also takes into account the $158.00 from the Sister's in Sobriety Women's Group's 50/50 Raffle. Our total income for June was $13,384.99. Our Cost of Goods Sold was $5,339.55. Subtracting the Cost of Goods Sold from our June income left us with a Gross Profit of $8,045.44. Our Total Expenses for June were $7,390.55. Subtracting our Expenses from our Gross Profit gave us a Net Income of plus+$654.89 for the month of June. This leaves us a total of $148.53 in the black for the year thus far. No matter how good it may appear that we are doing from one month to another, it takes your consistent contributions to keep us operating on a steady level. As our AA membership continues to grow in the Tampa Bay area, the demand for more and more material and services continue to expand and we continue to try and strive to keep up with the demand. That is only possible with your continued support. Thank you for all of your support !!!

SUPPORT YOUR CENTRAL OFFICE

Council Minutes....continued from page 4: New Business: Bill brought up the question of moving forward and finding new venues for next year for our two events at the Board meeting and this was carried over to the Council meeting. He had suggested an idea of making up a list of questions to use as a format in selecting venues that could possibility be used in the future. Questions like location, cost, capacity, amenities such as kitchen use, restrooms-etc. A lot of chit-chat followed. It was noted that the Promises Group had a great place to hold an event. Cindy had talked to Sue Scott, the administrator at Holy Innocents Episcopal Church at 604 N Valrico Rd, Valrico, FL 33594. She was very helpful and informative. She said the fellowship hall can accommodate up to 250 people. They request a love offering around $200. That entitles us to the fellowship hall, kitchen, and bathrooms. If they have a church function the following day and have to call in a cleaning crew, we would be charged an additional $125. There's no charge for insurance. we would need to be out by 9:30. It's about 20 miles (35 minutes) from Central Office, but I still think it's a viable possibility for the Anniversary Dinner and/or the Founder's Day dinner for 2018. The Promises meeting has had several dinners there, and it is nice and comfortable. Parking is not an issue. Tim also noted that others were also looking into other sites, so we should wait and see what they have before we vote on one site, for now. We have plenty of time. Harold noted that we are talking about a central location, it's usually for the people located in that location. We need to bring that thought here. Tim mentioned that Bill J. had won a First Edition Big Book at one of our events and was now offering it to use as a Raffle for our Anniversary Dinner in February 2018.

The next Council Meeting will be July 11th, 2017
